Theatre Review :
Slick Performance

By ART DAY

Slick...simple...energetic...exciting. These words epitomize the performance of Ain't Misbehavin' by the Hippodrome State Theatre at the Marion Bowman Activities Center last weekend. The five-member cast, overcoming the potential for boredom created by the many songs, moved from one song into the next with effortless efficiency.

The performance of Ain't Misbehavin' was slick because each part of this two-act revue dove-tailed perfectly into each of the other parts. Moreover, each performer was willing to risk failure in order to achieve the reward of an exciting performance. And each performer did just that. Lance Harmeling and Yvette Curtis, for example, used simple mirror exercises learned in one of their basic acting classes and transformed "How Ya Baby" into an exciting, energetic number. James Randolph II and Maleta Jefferson sang "Honeysuckle Rose" in front of a simple set depicting a Harlem jazz club in 1927 and captured the flavor of the period. By the free and easy use of their bodies, faces and voices, Jim and Maleta projected the inherent excitement of the "Fats" Waller song.

Although activity was necessary to keep the revue moving, Jim proved that variety is also necessary to keep the revue interesting. In a solo effort, Jim generated fun and comedy as he sang "Your Feets Too Big," while seated at one of the two small tables that comprised the set. He played with the words of the song; the audience responded to his efforts.

The highlight of the evening for this reviewer, however, was the controlled singing of the entire company of the Ethel Waters' hit, "Black and Blue." The cast gave this standard the depth and soul that truly captured the poignant meaning of the words.

The revue, Ain't Misbehavin', provided the flavor of a period of which Thomas "Fats" Waller was an instrumental part. "Fats" Waller supplied most of the music for the revue, but the cast of Yvette Curtis, Lance Harmeling, Gamalia Pharms, James Randolph II and Maleta Jefferson breathed the life into the performance that was necessary to make this potpourri of songs exciting, slick, energetic entertainment.

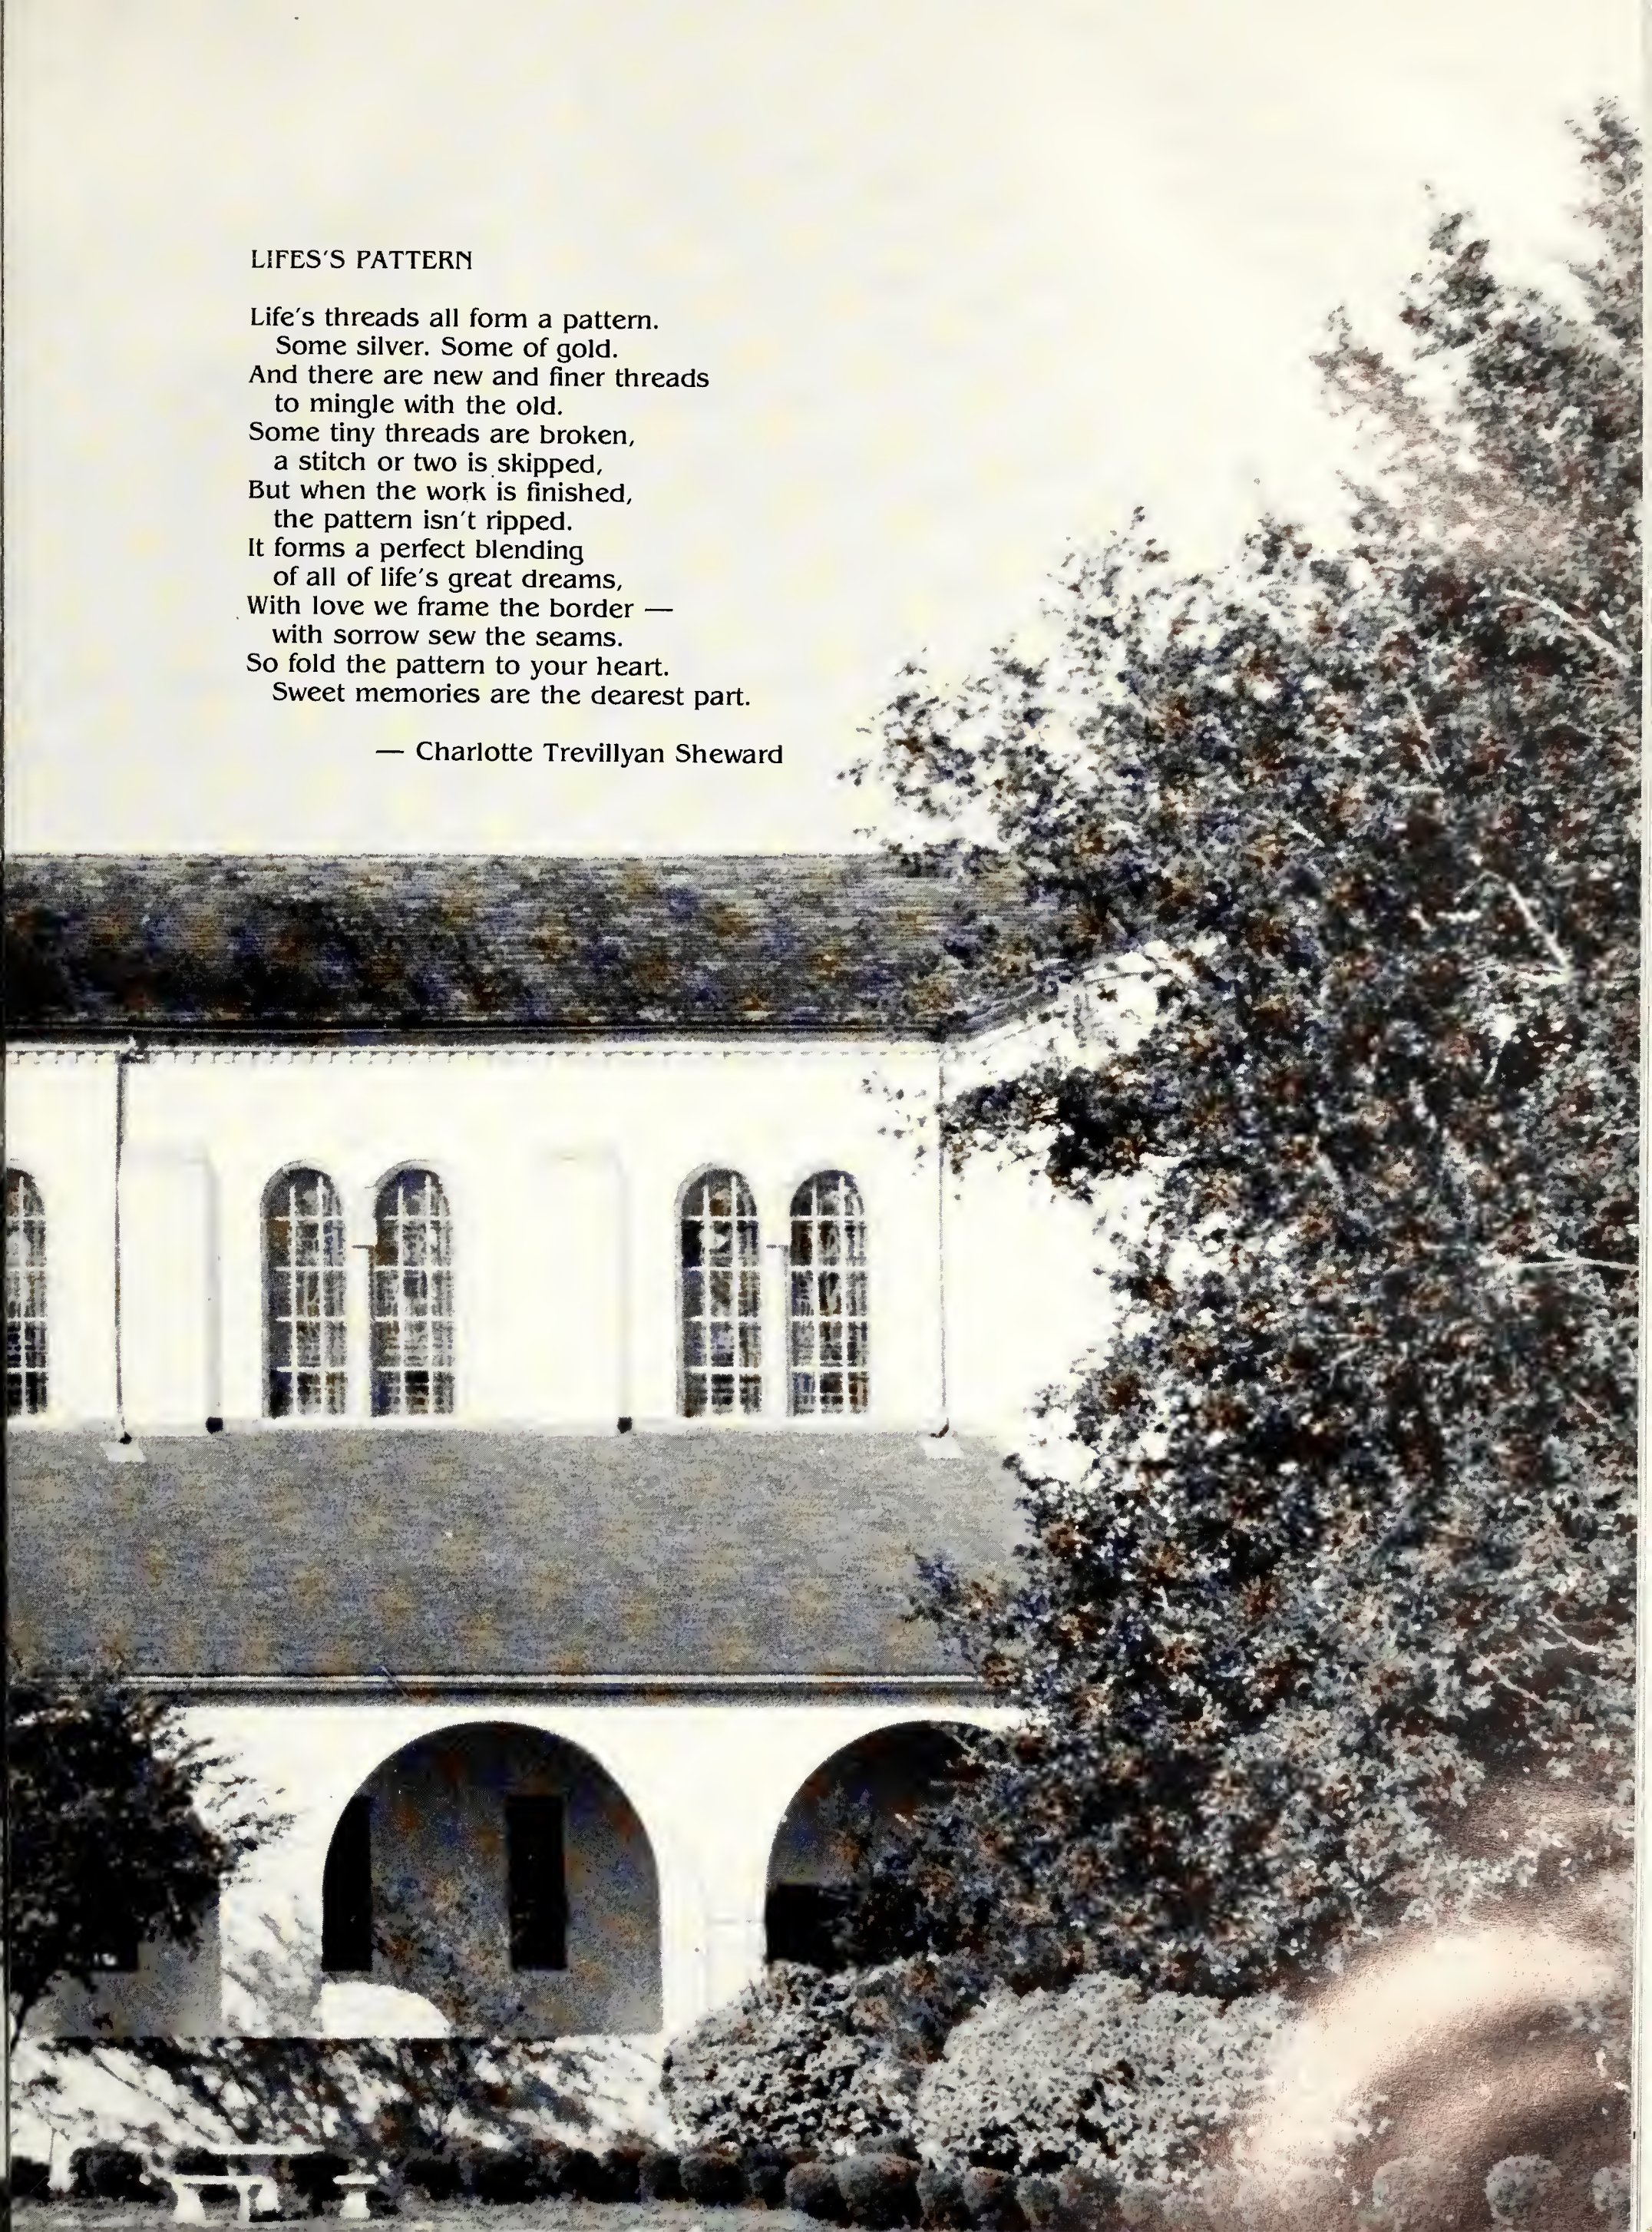
LIFES'S PATTERN

Life's threads all form a pattern.
  Some silver. Some of gold.
And there are new and finer threads
  to mingle with the old.
Some tiny threads are broken,
  a stitch or two is skipped,
But when the work is finished,
  the pattern isn't ripped.
It forms a perfect blending
  of all of life's great dreams,
With love we frame the border —
  with sorrow sew the seams.
So fold the pattern to your heart.
  Sweet memories are the dearest part.

— Charlotte Trevillyan Sheward



DR. M. DANIEL HENRY

Dr. Henry was the sixth President of Saint Leo College. He previously served as vice president for administration at the University of Dayton, vice president for academic affairs at Barry University, academic dan of LaRoche College, and in student services and academic affairs at the University of Pittsburgh. He is loved by all.

REV. MONSIGNOR FRANK M. MOUCH

A change in leadership is an important event in any college community. It signals the ending of one era and the beginning of another. More often than not, the entire school is affected — administration, faculty and students alike. This year Saint Leo experienced the departure of Dr. Henry as he passed the reins of leadership to Monsignor Mouch. Dr. Henry built upon the continuing process of growth and achievement of excellence set by his predecessors. We wish Monsignor Mouch the best as he, too, builds upon a strong foundation and all of Saint Leo looks to the future . . . .

Rev. Monsignor Frank Mouch was elected to be the seventh president of St. Leo College on February 13, 1987. He obtained his bachelor's degree from the Pontifical College Josephinum in Columbus, Ohio, his M.Ed. degree from the University of Florida and his S.T.L. from the Angelicum University in Rome. He is a member of the Vocations Commission, the Communications Advisory Council and the Insurance Committee of the Diocese of Venice. He is on the Board of Trustees of St. Vincent de Paul Seminary of Boynton Beach and the Board of Directors of The Florida Catholic. Also, he is active on the Planning Committee of the National Assembly II of Bishops and Rectors of Theolgates.

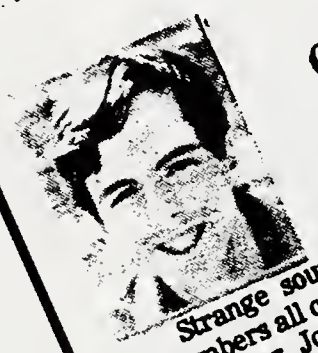
Telephone System
Working Out The Bugs

Campus News

Edward Saint- Ivan



Strange sounds, crossed lines and wrong numbers all come with the new phone system. However, John Grief, who oversees the phone system's administration, points out, "The new phone system means that we can give students phone service in their rooms at a much reduced rate than the local phone company."

He also believes most of the system's problems are in part not the system's fault. He adds, "Some of the inexpensive phones don't operate with the system well."

The new phone system means students are billed $7.50 a month in their room fee. Mr. Grief attributes the lesser cost of phone use at Saint Leo to the fact that "they don't have to pay deposits and installation fees." The rate doesn't include the cost of the telephone itself and is billed even if the student doesn't use the system.

Two Saint Leo students generously shared their time with The Monarch to give their views of the phone system. One is freshman David Jordan. "Discount rates don't seem to be much," he comments. He also complains, "You can't get operator assistance, nor can you make or receive collect calls."

Jason Bever is also unhappy with the phone system. He had an unusual phone problem. "I couldn't call out but I could get calls in," he says. In spite of this problem, his complaints aren't related to maintenance. "They fixed it as fast as they could," he recalls. On the other hand, he adds, "The system is terrible because they make everything so complicated."

As an example, he mentions the school doesn't have enough lines going out (only 16). "Sometimes you can't get through because the lines are flooded."

Jerome Keller, a Saint Leo operator, however, compliments the system. "I'm glad the students have their own phones. The greatest part is that they enjoy it."

On the horizon are international calls: so don't give up trying to call Bermuda.

Who 's Who Students Named

The 1987 edition of WHO'S WHO AMONG STUDENTS IN AMERICAN UNIVERSITIES AND COLLEGES will include the names of 14 students from Saint Leo College who have been selected as national outstanding campus leaders.

Campus nominating committees and editors of the annual directory have included the names of these students based on their academic achievement, service to the community, leadership in extracurricular activities and potential for continued success.

They join an elite group of students selected from more than 1,400 institutions of higher learning in all 50 states, the District of Columbia and several foreign nations.

Outstanding students have been honored in the annual directory since it was first published in 1934.

Students named this year from Saint Leo College are: Darren B. Burchall, Maryellen Burke, Karen M. Citarella, Colleen M. Clancy, Corinne-Nadin Desimone, Kathleen Devlin, Teresa L. Dobrovolsky, David J. Dukes, Patrick B. Gallagher, Elijah A. Knowles, Angela M. Kraemer, Candace D. Leverett, Colette Kelly Logan, Michael M. McDonnell.

NOTICE

Library Dedication Held

Dr. Ralph E. Ellsworth, Director of Libraries and professor emeritus at the University of Colorado, delivered the main address at the Dedication Ceremonies for the Daniel A. Cannon Memorial Library at Saint Leo College. Dedication was held Friday, Nov. 14. A Pontifical Mass was offered at the Abbey Church at 2 p.m. with Dedication Ceremonies in front of the Library at 3 p.m. Tours of the library and refreshments were offered from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

Dr. Ellsworth served, until his retirement in 1972, as director of the University of Colorado's libraries. He has also acted as a consultant to many other academic libraries, including the University of California undergraduate library at Berkeley, the library at Renssaelaer Polytechnic Institute, and the library at the University of Texas in Dallas. At the University of Iowa he was given responsibility for designing the full library system. Dr. Ellsworth, who lives in Boulder, Colo., is the author of "Planning the College and University Library Building" and "The School Library."

Dr. Ellsworth was Library Buildings Consultant for the Saint Leo College library expansion project.

Saint Leo's newly expanded library honors the memory of Daniel A. Cannon, a prominent Pasco County citrus grower who was a graduate of Saint Leo College Preparatory School and a member of the Board of Trustees at the College. Major funding for the library expansion was provided by Mr. Cannon's widow, Elizabeth, who is also a member of the College's Board of Trustees.

The $1.9 million library renovation is the largest one-building project in the College's history. The library, built by the monks of Saint Leo Abbey in 1959, has been increased in size 2½ times. Space now exists for 150,000 volumes - up from 85,000 - and the seating capacity has been enlarged from 145 to 350.

The expanded library has space for computers, audiovisual and bibliographic equipment and increased staff work space. There is also a new glass skylight, floor to ceiling windows overlooking Lake Jovita, new study and lounge furniture and individual study carrels.

With expansion, the library will actively participate in the Tampa Bay regional library network.

John D. Grubbs, a Brooksville contractor, built the addition, which was designed by the architectural firm of Schweitzer Associates from Orlando.

Stand By Me

By BRIAN T. FINN

They don't make movies the way they used to, but some of Hollywood's latest are worth seeing.

"Stand By Me" is the latest film from Rob Reiner, and it is definitely one of these worthy ones. In these days of the "Rambo" era, it is interesting when a film takes a chance and breaks away from current trends in film making.

"Stand By Me" is about four twelve-year-old boys who live in a small town in the midwest during the summer of 1959. The meat of the film concerns their search for the dead body of a local teenager who is missing.

They go on a weekend expedition hiking along the railroad tracks and have many humorous encounters along the way.

But, this film is more than a comedy - it's about friendship and being twelve-years old. It will make you remember a time when you were young and irresponsible. There aren't any special effects, no chainsaws, just plenty of laughs.

The soundtrack of the movie contains the sounds of the fifties ands add a sense of nostalgia to the film.

If you haven't seen this movie, go check it out, you won't be disappointed.

MESSAGE

EDITOR'S

Little did we know, when we accepted the job of co-editor's of the Golden Legend, what an important and difficult job it is to produce a yearbook. Over the past year, we have observed you, our fellow students, living, playing and studying. The Golden Legend staff worked especially hard to record all those wonderful memories which are so special. This book could not have been made without the efforts of many people. A big thank you goes out to everyone who gave us the use of many of their personal photographs. We would especially like to thank Mr. Ruday for his guidance and assistance, the yearbook staff for their work and dedication, Michael Abernethy for his friendship, help, time and advice, Larry Jasper for his help and understanding and Zeppie Allan with Public Affairs for their help in obtaining photographs and information. Finally, we acknowledge the help and patience of Davis Studios and Jerry Gladstein, our representative from Jostens Publishing Company.

We have learned a great deal this past year. Now, Planning begins in earnest for the next yearbook. We will put to use our knowledge and experience to produce, for you, a collection of fond memories . . . as Saint Leo looks to the future . . .

Greek Week is filled with excitement, laughter, and frustrations. Victory is the key word but along with victory, there is a lot of work and struggle. The torch race starts off greek week and all throughout the week there are many events for all sororities and fraternities to participate in. Greek week is one of the best times of the year and a time that everyone looks forward to, but there is always a sigh of relief at the end, along with defeat and victory.

The Man You Are

It isn't the man that you might have been
Had the chance been yours again,
Nor the prize you wanted but didn't win
That weighs in the measure of men.
No futile "if" or poltroon "because"
Can rowel your stock to par.
The world cares naught for what never was —
It judges by what you are.

It isn't the man that you hope to be,
If fortune and fate are kind,
That the chill, keen eyes of the world will see
In weighing your will and mind.

The years ahead are a chartless sea,
  And tomorrow's a world away;
It isn't the man that you'd like to be,
  But the man that you are today.

There's little worth in the phantom praise
  Of a time that may never dawn,
And less in a vain regret for days
  And deeds long buried and gone.
There's little time on this busy earth
  To argue the why and how.
The game is yours if you prove your worth,
  and prove it here and now
